Accountability Breakfast Meeting, San Andrés, Colombia

As we had hoped, the breakfast meeting on the Island of San Andrés met all of our expectations.

For more than two hours, the Foundation met with public and private sector participants committed to San Andrés. In addition to a presentation highlighting the Foundation's activities on the island since 2008, the meeting featured proposals for new projects; ideas and alliances that we are confident will contribute to the attainment of the Foundation's short-, medium- and long-term goals for San Andrés.

Attending were representatives of our donors – Chevron, GHL, Davivienda Bank and the government – as well as other actors whose support has made the Sound Bay project possible. Thanks to the media outlet that covered the event, a wider audience will learn about our activities in San Andrés.

Thanks to everyone who joined us for this important and productive meeting!

BeLive , For the First Time, in Colombia!

The launching of the Hublot-BeLive watch designed to raise funds for BeLive foundations was made through the donation of Hublot limited edition watches for BeLive, in Bogota, at Club Colombia, the restaurant owned by renowned chef Harry Sasson,

The event was attended by different personalities from the show business and Colombian politicians, such as Isabella Santodomingo, the pilot Juan Pablo Montoya and his wife Connie Freydell, the son of President Juan Manuel Santos, Martin Santos, Carolina Gomez, scriptwriter Fernando Gaitán, and others. The evening, which included the presentation of Andrea Serna, was a success because they managed to raise over 100 million pesos in donations from the audience and by Hublot. The funds will be distributed among the country's most vulnerable populations.

Winners of Paint JPM's Helmet competition

Bogota, January 25, 2006 – During the weekend of February 18-21, 2012, Formula Smiles Foundation gave the promised prize to the person winning the second place in the helmet design contest.

With this contest, the Foundation wants to develop creativity among children in Colombia, and to also show them that practicing any kind of sport becomes a feasible way to grow as a professional and as an individual.During the weekend, Sebastian Ramirez enjoyed several get-togethers with the NASCAR Colombian pilot Juan Pablo Montoya.

Our foundation has the support of many public and private organizations that share this feeling towards helping the community, and are totally committed with our cause in benefit of Colombia’s childhood and of the most needed ones.They visited restaurants and amusement parks, and the unique experience of watching the Daytona 500 from the pits.
